

Business Value of Vectra Cognito Platform

Interviewed enterprise organizations from various geographical locations and industries reported that they have substantially improved their ability to identify and respond to security threats across their IT landscapes. As a result, they have significantly reduced costs associated with security breaches and unplanned downtime. Meanwhile, security teams benefit from automation and AI-driven functionality to work more efficiently and effectively.

Key Results

63%

Lower risk of major security event

>4.5:1

3-year ROI

5 months

Payback period

Improved Security Capabilities and Reduced Risk

Almost 3x

more threats proactively identified

85%

more efficient in identifying actual threats

39%

faster to rebuild servers and workstations

57%

fewer impactful security incidents

85%

less unplanned downtime

75%

faster resolution of security incidents

Customer Quote:

"The speed to investigate on alerts is absolutely a key benefit with Vectra. . . The quicker we react, the less the damage to the corporation. Anybody that asks me, I will say that is one of the key reasons why I would choose Vectra."

Security Team and Cost Efficiencies

41%

More efficient incident management teams

57%

More efficient network security analyst teams

2x

higher productivity, impacted security operations team members

30%

Lower costs from security tools/solution consolidation

Customer Quote:

"On the business side, the most significant benefits of Vectra for us are identifying misconfigurations and identifying rogue systems that shouldn't be on the network. . . With Vectra, we've minimized the severity of security events because it gives us quicker identification of security events before they get really bad."